

Additional Criteria for Master's Degree Level GRP Publication (Plan B). This notification is issued with reference to Mae Fah Luang University Notification on Graduate Level Research Publication Criteria, BE 2556 (2013), which stipulates that publication of a master's degree GRP (Plan B) be a graduation requirement.

For clearer understanding, Mae Fah Luang University hereby issues additional criteria regarding the publication requirement, as detailed hereunder.

A minimum of ONE piece of research work based on an independent study and approved by a committee of experts in the given field must be published through any of the channels stated in items 6.1 to 6.5. In case that the given programme does not stage a seminar in which the research work can be presented, the following criteria shall be followed.

The student must write an article using the format specified by the university (of which a template can be downloaded from Office of the Postgraduate Studies website, under 'Research Article Template for Plan B Students'). The article shall then be examined by a committee appointed by the given school or by the independent study examination committee; in either case, the student must attend the article-examination meeting.
